

Mont Albert Primary School

Bulletin Survey

The launch of our new web site late last year, along with the recent upgrade, got us thinking about how we can use our web site more effectively. We had two aims in mind with our web site from the outset; to enhance our communications between the school and parents and to save time, money and to be more environmentally friendly.

With this in mind, we have observed many schools moving towards an online presentation of their newsletters.

The benefits are many. One being not having to print thousands of pieces of paper. Did you know that in Victoria alone, over 20 million pages are consumed in the production of school newsletters? And then there's the ink. It is estimated that a saving of around $7,000 per year for our school will be made.

For parents, we have developed an email reminder to let you know when the newsletter's available online. You'll never misplace another newsletter knowing that a copy is available on the web site along with several back issues. It is our aim to include a Calendar of Events on the web site, with links to relevant notices / permission slips etc. This and further future enhancements are positive steps in home-school communications.

We seek your input and responses to the following questions.
